
Question marks after Panther upgrade

Question marks after Panther upgrade

by Fred Sorg on 2004-08-10 15:07:11 +0200

Just upgraded my iMac to Panther 10.3.5 – but now when I open Moofmenu it only shows "question mark icons", (? Mail or ? Safari. etc) in place of the application's regular icons. Any suggestions?

Hello,

MoofMenu 1.0.2 fixes the issues you will encounter with MacOS 10.3.5 and the related Security updates. Please download it here:

am a registered user of MM1.0 and works well under 10.3.4 on dual USB iBook 800 G3, but new version won't launch. I have removed the older version, which works fine, but 1.5, just double click, does not launch, no error or crash message. nothing.

any ideas?

Moofmenu problems with Tiger

Moofmenu problems with Tiger

I just upgraded to Tiger and am finding Moofmenu somewhat unstable. I had the Documents folder in my top level Moofmenu. When I try and view it MM quits. Same thing happens with Applications when there is a subfolder; when I roll over it to try and view the hierarchical folder, MM dies immediately.

Anyone else having this problem?

Hi,

I can acknowledge your problem. Lobotomo is already working on the fix. Actually I am already using a test version with the fix and it is working fine!

So check back later and you will probably get a new version.

Regards

Pascal

I have just had to do a reinstall following a disastrous upgrade to 10.4.6
Unfortunately I made a complete dog's breakfast of reinstalling MM by accidentally clicking twice on the version of MM on the expanded dmg disk.

Cmdn-option-Q does not work for me to do a forced quit. Now every time
I open MM the install disk appears and I can't stop this from happening.
Obviously I didn't manage to quit the original before reinstalling.

Any ideas on how I can completely remove MM and start again?
